

Using AppStream when Java is Unavailable

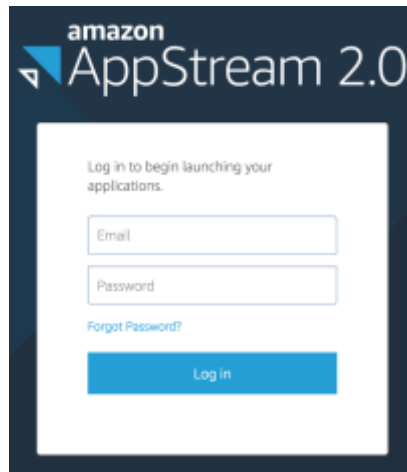

Get More Math for teachers relies on an updated version of java. Sometimes teachers cannot get java set up, so we provide a browser-based workaround called 'AppStream.' In order to use GMM on AppStream, you will need an AppStream login (which we will provide) as well as your normal GMM username and password.

Use Chrome or Safari to go to gmm.getmoremath.com.

Click on the 'AppStream' button.

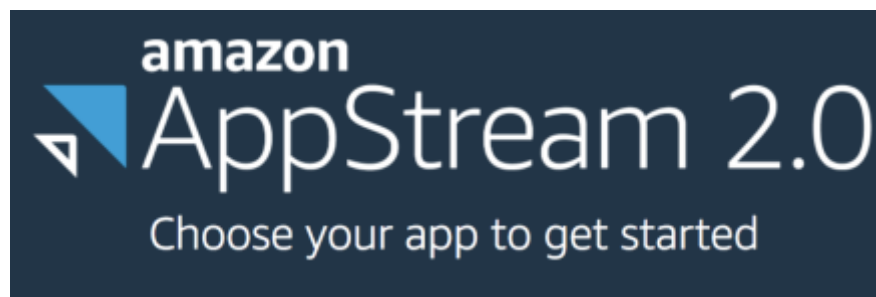

Use the AppStream email address and password provided to sign in.

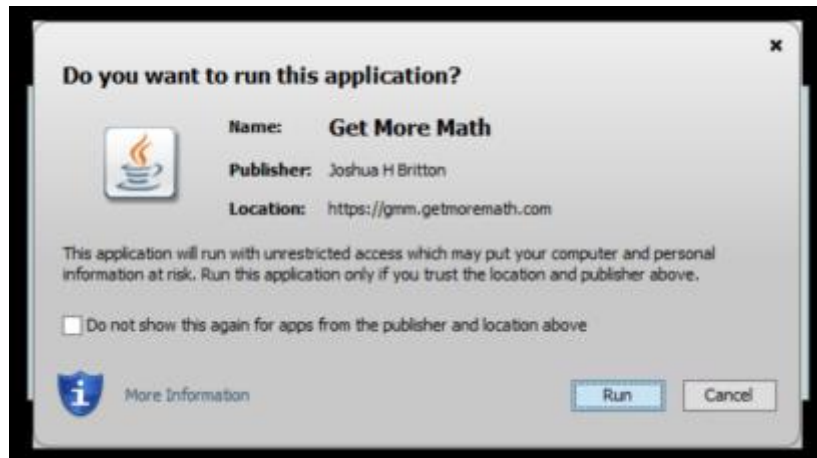

The image shows the Amazon AppStream 2.0 login interface. At the top, it says "amazon AppStream 2.0". Below that, it prompts the user to "Log in to begin launching your applications." There are two input fields: "Email" and "Password". A link for "Forgot Password?" is located below the password field. A blue "Log in" button is at the bottom of the form.

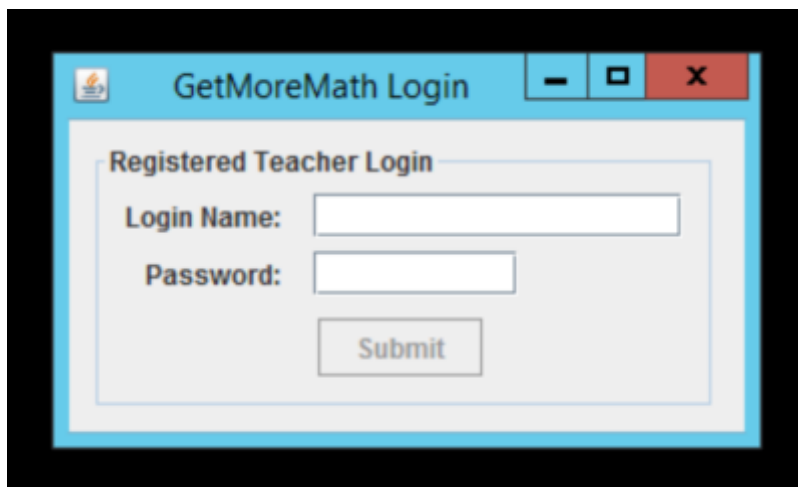

Click on the Get More Math logo to launch the program.

When asked “Do you want to run this application?” click Run.

Enter your GMM username and password to launch the teacher program.

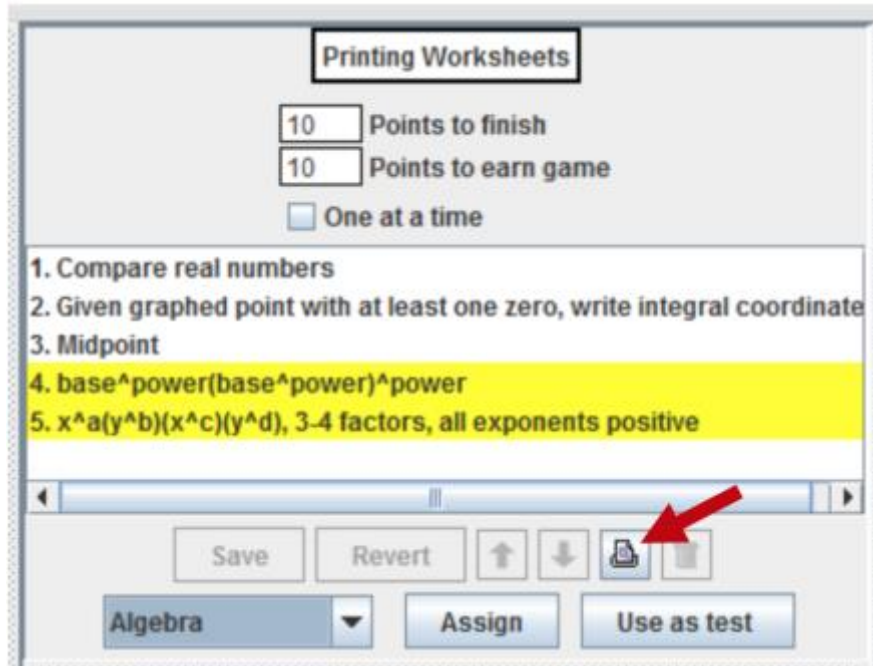

Note: We recommend avoiding minimizing the Get More Math program while using AppStream, as it can be difficult to get it to resize later.

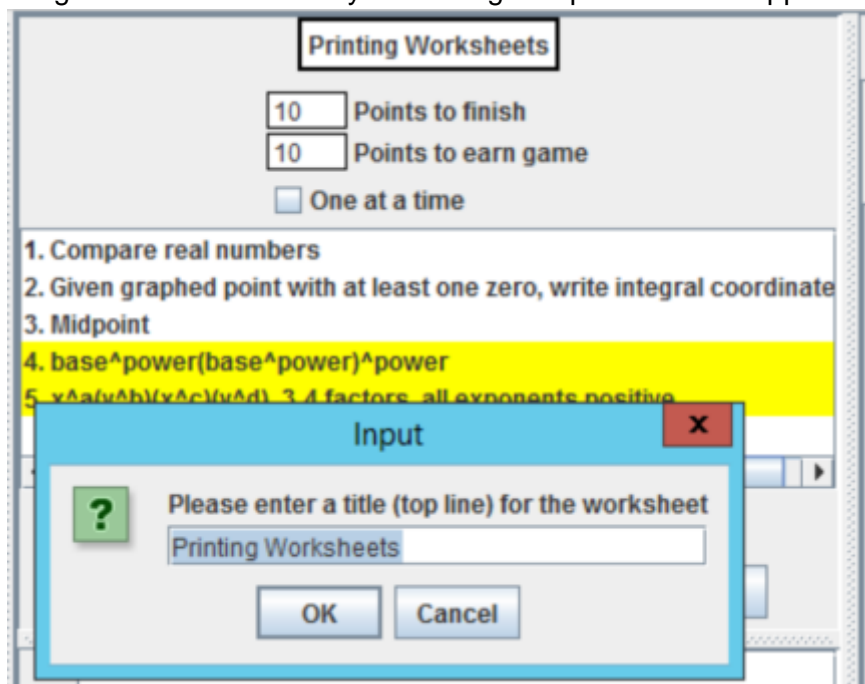

Printing Worksheets while Using AppStream

Printing worksheets while using AppStream requires a few extra steps.

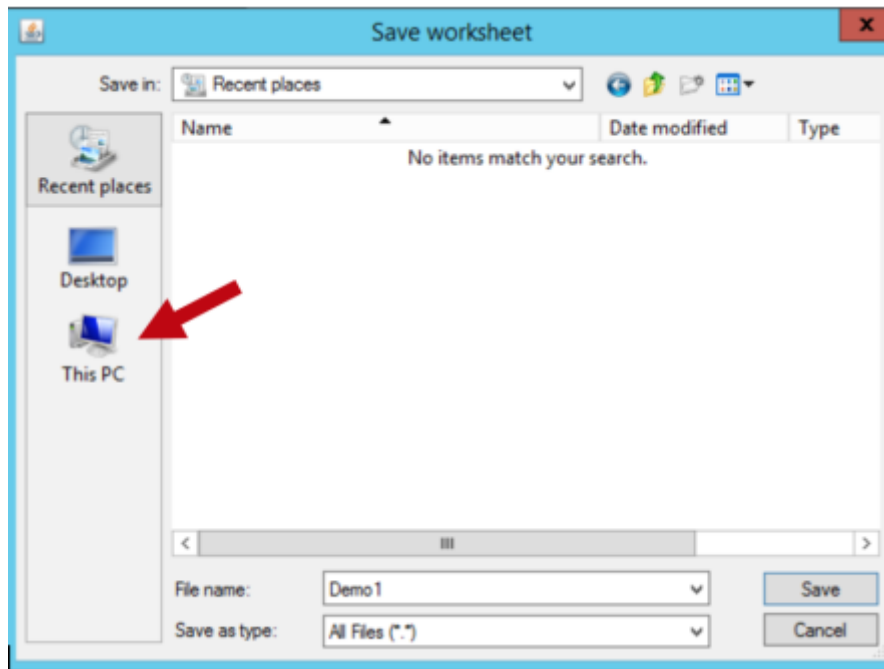

Create and save your assignment like normal. After saving, click the Create Worksheet button.

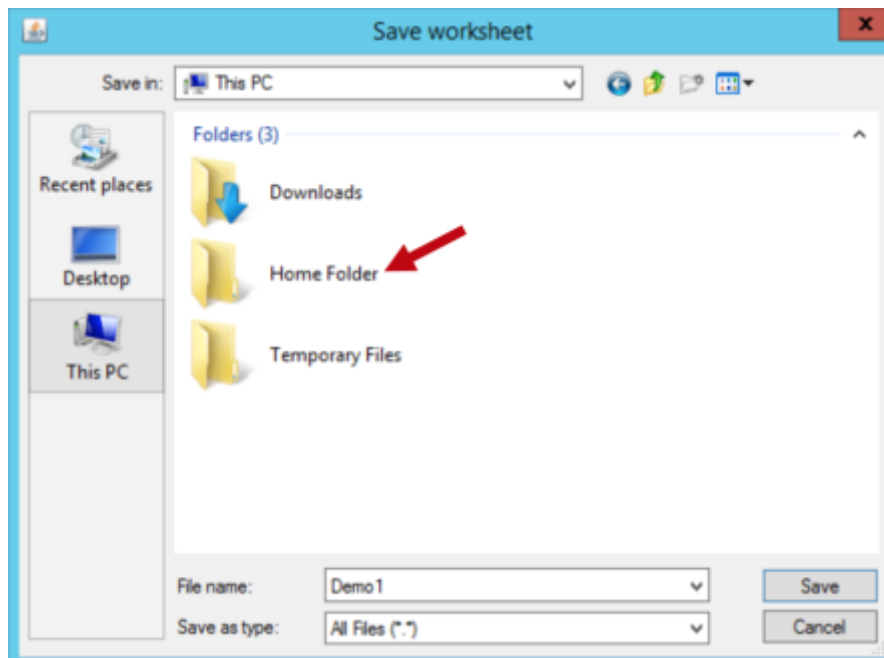

Finalize the settings for this worksheet by answering the questions that appear in dialog boxes.

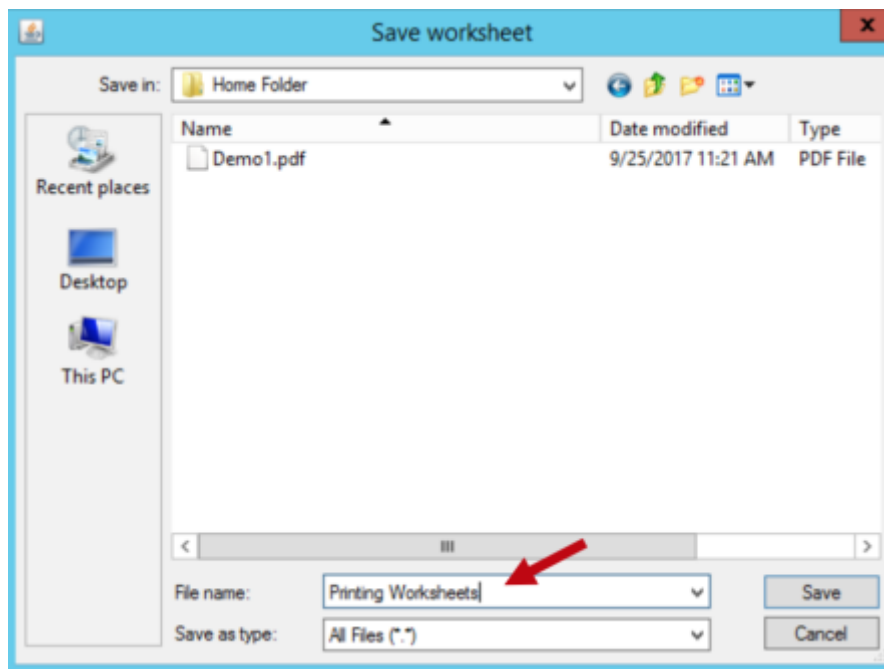

You will be asked to choose a location to save this file. Select "This PC."

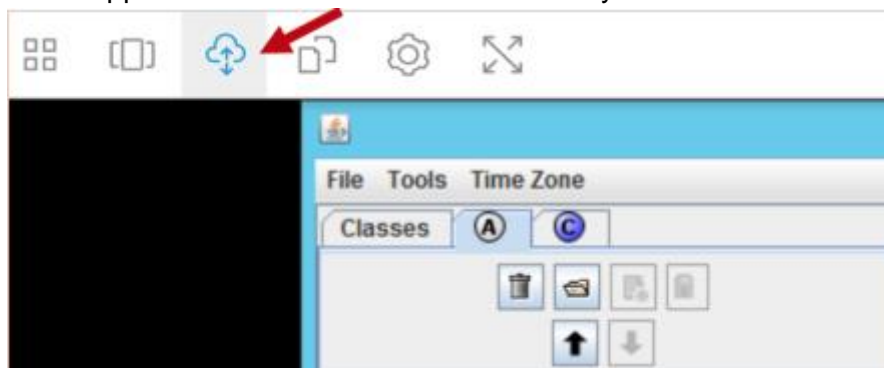

Select the Home Folder.

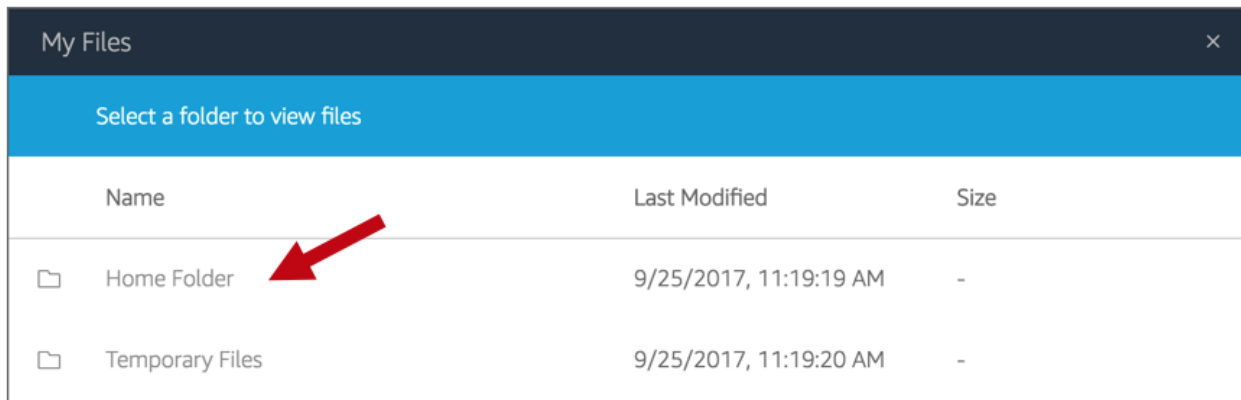

Enter the correct name for this file and click Save.

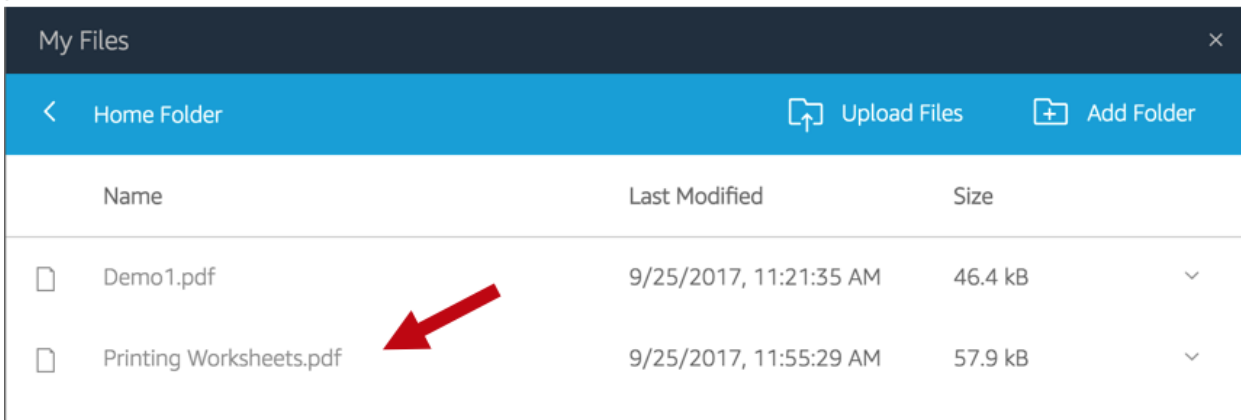

In the top left of the AppStream screen select the icon for My Files.

Select Home Folder.

Select the file you are trying to print. Clicking on the file will download the pdf and allow you print.
